FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – November 4, 2009

Globe Theatre Artistic Director and CEO Directs Holiday Production, Peter Pan.

REGINA – Globe Theatre boasts Peter Pan, as the 2009|2010 season’s Holiday Production, suitable for families and all ages. When the eternally youthful Peter Pan offers to take Wendy and her brothers on a journey to Neverland, we learn while our bodies may age, we can still be young in spirit.

Written by J.M. Barrie and adapted by Jeff Pitcher, Globe Theatre’s spin on this classic features costume and set designs by Karyn McCallum in a “biker and cyclist” theme designed through the eyes of a child, as well as lighting designs by Louise Guinand. Directed by Globe Theatre’s Artistic Director and CEO, Ruth Smillie, the Holiday Production is our biggest and most extravagant show of the season!

The cast includes local artists Duncan Fisher, Jonelle Gunderson, Lucy Hill, Harry Judge, Kyle Markewich, Daniel Maslany, Amy Matysio and Jeremy Hilsendager. Out of town artists include Sarah Mennell, Brendan Murray, and Cole Humeny. Allan Rae is the production’s Composer and Johanna Bundon is Choreographer. Stage Manager Kim Bujaczek is joined by Crystal Skinner and Natasha Bean-Smith as Assistant Stage Manager and Apprentice Stage Manager respectively.

Peter Pan runs November 25–December 27, 2009. For regular updates, photos and blogs visit the Globe Theatre Fan Page on Facebook or our news feed at globetheatrelive.com
